

We Are Grateful

The holiday season has begun, and another year is coming to a close. We at Jaffe are taking time to reflect on the 41 years that make up our history and the many people who have touched our organization in one way or another. If you're reading this, you are one of those people, and we thank you.

Jaffe Staff

Thank you to all of our clients, past and present, who have supported us throughout our many incarnations and evolutions. You entrusted us with your organizations' brands and your professionals' reputations. We are grateful for your business and for the opportunities presented to us through working with you.

Thank you to all of our employees and contractors, past and present. Many of you in professional services marketing and PR have been a team member here at one time or another. Your contributions have helped make us the organization we are today. We always look forward to chances to reconnect.

Thank you to the Legal Marketing Association and its leadership. You are an essential asset to the legal marketing and PR community, and your influence on the industry cannot be understated. We are so grateful you have embraced us throughout the years. You continually provide us a seat at the table and a platform where we can share our thought leadership.

Thank you to the professionals who subscribe to our weekly thought leadership content, listen to us speak at conferences and seminars, and engage us in conversations about professional services marketing and PR. We appreciate your time and attention.

So from all of us at Jaffe to all of you – thank you. Have a safe and happy holiday season. We encourage you to spend time with your loved ones and to reflect on all the accomplishments, reasons and people for which you are grateful.
