

Rules of Professional Conduct for Attorney Advertising in Every State

Each state has its own rules for attorney advertising and how lawyers can publish information about their services on websites, social media, and in advertising. Many of the rules are similar across most of the states. In fact, most start with Rule 7.1 of the Rules of Professional Conduct.

This table contains links to every state's rules, for a quick and convenient reference for attorneys and legal marketing professionals.

For state websites that contain the entire handbook of the state's rules of professional conduct and no table of contents, search "7.1" or "information about legal services" to quickly navigate to standards concerning communications and advertising.
